GREENBACKS 88 CENTS AND 1 MILL

WALL STREET, SUNDAY, April 5, 1874.

Another week has passed and the currency problem remains unsolved. Meanwhile there is a growing feeling of distrust in, if not contempt for. The real financiers of the country have expressed this feeling openly, and now even the workingmen begin to realize that by the stupidity of legislation, or rather of the want of it, the laborer's dollar bill, which, on the 1st of November was worth 93% cents, has been reduced in value to 88 cents on the dollar. There is but one way out of the difficulty, and that, although it is not likely to be adopted, is for Congress to return to the fundamental principles of political economy. That body has no constitutional right to issue more paper and call it a dollar, and doubly so when it is not based on actual property available for its re-

NO LEGISLATION CAN PREVENT PANICS, nd no amount of foresight can prevent the con tingency of failure to any class of people who live beyond their income or invest their means in undertakings that can never pay interest. It is equally impossible to make money stay where it is ot wanted or to put money in the pockets of those who have not the wherewith to buy it. We have soo much currency now. The fact that it is not at par with gold shows that it is not only not too small in volume, but that it is actually excessive; and the more we have the more will the people eventually suffer from the consequences. It may take ten paper dollars to buy a bushel of wheat or one gold dollar, but no sane man will contend that the farmer would be getting any more value for his wheat than he gets to-day. Now, the American people are eminently practical. They are averse to experiments, especially upon such a delicate subject as that of finance, and by such an mexperienced and purely theoretical body as Con-

WHAT THE COUNTRY WANTS

is the recognition of a few plain propositions, such, for instance, as that gold is the only basis of a sound currency; that paper redeemable in gold is the best currency; that currency is that form of credit which gets its birth in business transactions and represents an existing value, either gold or property; that currency untramelled by governent interference regulates its own volume; that s depreciated currency depreciates the credit of a nation; that a depreciated currency inflicts moral ill upon all classes, but throws the material loss and suffering mainly on the farmer and laborer; and, finally, that a depreciated currency tends to create and aggravate panics. Senator Sargent, of California, not long ago said, on the floor of the Senate:-"Fortunately for my own State, during the past ten years, or since these financial prob-lems became of interest, it has had a stable currency. It has had a currency peculiarly its own. And during all that time we have not had, by reason of the abundance or superabundance of money, inflation of values; nor, when the business of the country or other causes effected a proportionate dese in the volume of the currency have we had prices falling, breaking down our business and reducing the value of our property. We have had during all that time no panies of any description and scarcely a notable failure." This is a sermon in a nutshell.

OUR FOREIGN COMMERCE.

The statistics of foreign commerce for 1872 and 1873, recently published by the bureau at Washington, are calculated to inspire confidence. Our total exports, exclusive of specie, for the year ending December 31, 1873, amounted to a total, in round numbers, of $550,000,000-an increase of no less toan $98,000.000 on the previous year. Our specie exports last year were $56,000,000-a reduction of 36,000,000 as compared with 1872. The import trade also exhibits satisfactory results, amounting last year to $595,000,000 or $60,000,000 less than in 1872. In other words, foreign trade has reached a condition more healthy than it has been at any time since the close of the war. The country is lling more than it buys, and the panic has not been without its attendant blessing in checking the purchase of foreign goods. The suspension of ratiroad enterprises, which in turn gave employment to hundreds of other industries that required the use of loreign manufactures, has likewise reduced the volume of imports, and given to the country a chance to get more nearly even with its great European creditors. After all the true currency of the world is merchandise. That which settles American balances in foreign lands is gleaned from our cotton and tobacco fields. pumped from our petroleum wells, grown in the wheat fields of the broad West and found in the mines of the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Slope. These will always have their standard of value in the settlement of international accounts, and it is only an enemy of his country, who, pretending to be a political economist, will attempt to deprectate that value at home by legislating into existence untold millions of irredeemable paper currency. GOVERNMENT, RAILEOAD AND SOUTHERN SECURITIES.

United States bonds during the week were firm and advanced in sympathy with gold. The business was fairly active and the demand more than equal to the supply. State bonds were quiet, the principal leature being a decline in old Tennessees to 88% and in the new series to 67%. Mis sonris we'e firm and found market at 94 a 94%. In railroad bonds good business was done, and the advance that took place in several instances seems indicative of a revival of confidence and a return of the favor with which this class of securities has heretofore been regarded. Notwithstanding a decline in the earnings of many of the railroads the large surplus of money now on hand is likely to be more or less invested in their bonds, in preference to encountering the risks of the speculation that is likely to ensue in the near future. In this connection, the FRANK CONFESSION of President Thompson, of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, will be read with interest, for it is rarely that the public are treated to such testimony from an official source. He says :-- .

mony from an official source. He says:—

A close examination of the accounts of this company will show that its charges for freight upon agricultural products scarcely bear the expenses of transportation, and on many items the charges for transportation are below actual cost, leaving for the conveyance of the aggregate tomage of agricultural products little or no profit to the railroad company. This is largely due to the irregularity of its movement and the comparatively similal amounts, of back-loading obtained, as four-fittis of the ears return empty. The profits of the company from this source are almost wholly derived from the transportation at higher rates of the vanable articles which the sale of these products caubles the merchants and farmers to purcompany from the transportation at higher rates of the valuable articles which the sale of these pro-ducts enables the merchants and farmers to pur-chase in the East for consumption at nome. If the shareholders of Eastern trunk lines relied upon the direct profits from the carriage of agricultural products for dividends they would be disappointed in their expectations.

Mr. Thompson further shows that the average charges on his road have fallen from 2.40 cents per ton per mile in 1864 to 1.41 cents in 1873, so that it is a fact established by one of the great trunk lines that the rates of transportation are gradually being forced down, obedient to the spirit of competition and the diminished demands of trade.

THE GOLD MARKET. Gold advanced from 112% on Monday to 113% on Wednesday, the speculation gathering strength from the reported crisis in London. Subsequently it declined to 113% a 113%, closing steady and firm at 113%. The carrying rates ranged from 5 per cent to fist, and finally at 4 a 5 per cent. The following table shows the nuctuations during the continues easy, with 4 a 5 per cent as the pre-dominant rates, the supply offering at these figures being abundant. A few transactions on time were reported at 5 per cent for sixty and ninety days and 6 per cent for six months. Prime business paper was discounted at 5½ a 7 per cent. Currency has moved but slowly to the New England and Middle States, and the return flow is expected at an early day. Foreign exchange was dull, an ample supply of bills making it not dimcult to obtain accommodation at less than the nominal rates, which were finally as follows :-

Beyond the discussion of the currency question in Congress there have been during the past week lew disturbing influences in this market, the fluctuations being more frequent than wide. Erie was the chief sufferer for a time, in consequence of a break in the London price, occasioned by the strike at Susquehanna, and the reported trouble between the Atlantic and Great Western party and the present administration. The price declined on the other side from 36 to 32%, but after the fortnightly settling day advanced to 35. In this market the price declined from 40 to 37%, but recovered late in the week to 39%. A reported panic in London likewise served to create a depressing effect on the general list of stocks, until the denial of the act was received, whereupon there was a partial recovery, the market closing steady. The effect of inflation is not immediately apparent, except on gold, and there are not a few who predict disappointment to those who have purchased stocks in anticipation of an advance. The extreme dulness of the market, the difficulty with which it is moved upward and the comparative smallness of dealings are facts strongly suggestive of the dis-

THE STRUCTION is regarded, if indeed they do not corroborate the belief that the possibility of inflation was discounted three or four months ago, and prices have about reached the top. It is by no means certain, however, that in the event of a larger expansion of currency than $800,000,000, temporary strength securities, although it may be followed by an early decline. The fluctuations of the past week will be seen in the following table:-

From the statistics of an Austrian journal of finance it appears that the Vienna panic was much more widespread and disastrons than generally supposed at the time. In Austria eight banking louses, representing an aggregate capital of 15,200,000 florins; two insurance companies, representing 2,800,000 florins; one railway company, representing 600,000 florins, and seven industrial establishments, representing 3,000,000 florins, have falled outright. Forty banking establishments, with 139,400,000 florins capital; insurance compa nies, with 5,200,000 florins; one traffic establishment, with 1,600,000 florins; eighteen building societies, with 61,900,000 florins, and thirty-four industrial establishments, with 46,600,000 norins, have resorted to liquidation. In Hungary as many as ten banks, with 3,300,000 floring capital, and two industrial establishments, with 800,000 florins, have declared their failure; while thirteen banks, with 11,300,000 florins; two insurance companies, with 800,000 florins; one traffic establishment, with 4.800,000 florins; one building society, with 200,000 florins, and forty industrial establishments, with collectively 5,800,000 florins, have been driven to Bouldation. The number of fusions or amalgamations effected is not stated,

SATURDAY, April 4-6 P. M.

The past week was a very unsattsfactory one, commercially considered, viewed from any and every standpoint. The determined stand which Congress has finally taken in favor of inflation has caused universal apprehension and distrust to prevail in commercial circles, and business men have been fearful about taking a single step beyond All legitimate enterprises are hampered, and only speculation, pure and simple, is stimulated, while even in this field there has thus far been no considerable movement, owing to the great diver ciation the currency is likely to attain to. Many contend that the action recently taken is but the stepping stone to still higher or lower flights of folly, and the mercantile community naturally hesitate about putting any faith in the avowals of such men as have put themselves on record in favor such men as have put themselves on record in favor of a further debasement of the national currency and by the same means have wrought the national dishonor. If the pledged faith of the nation can be so readily broken by the law makers or law breakers in one finistance, there would seem to be no guarantee whatever for the future. Hence no faith is placed in the asseverations of the inflationists that $400,000,000 will be the limit to the currency. It is about as hively to be fixed at $500,000,000 as the smaller fears: In yiew of which both $500,000,000 as the smaller figure; in view of which both buyer and seller are apprehensive and sign contracts with considerable hesitancy. The dry goods business with considerable heaitancy. The dry goods outsnoss was greatly depressed during the greater part of the week, and, though considerable business was consummated, it was on a lower basis for all kinds of cotton fabrics, it having become evident that lower prices would have to be accepted or the spring trade would be unusually dwarted. Even as it is the accreate business will undenbtedly. De very light. the aggregate business will, undoubtedly, be very light. The hardware business was also slow, but weak; but the most active season in this department is over. At the the aggregate business was also slow, but weak; but the most active season in this department is over. At the Produce Exchange business from day to day was very light; but, with the inflation policy indorsed by Congress, it was hard work for buyers to get prices down very much, while the first indications of increasing activity were invariably met by an advance in prices, in view of which business was light. On Saturday flour was firm, under a moderate demand. Wheat was only in light request, but the transactions were at steady prices. Corn met with a tair demand, in part for export, and firmer prices were maintained. Oats were firmer, and firmer prices were maintained. Oats were firmer, and firmer prices were maintained.
